

Cheyanne - 2007

Cheyanne was donated to the Reeses by Tom Shriver, who was a wonderful volunteer and we miss him greatly. Cheyanne is very friendly and has a knack for unlocking gates.

O'boy - 2003

O'boy was a scared, neglected, 2 year old who was given to one of the Reeses' sons who trained him. When he returned from the army, O'boy helped him return to civilian life.

Diamond

Diamond was rescued from a Cartel property in February 2021. She was brought to the ranch on Valentines Day.

Ryder - 2008

Ryder was in an unhealthy situation that he needed to get out of, so Eileen bought him and he became Sampson's friend. He also loves to show off his tricks!

Little Joe - 2017

Little Joe was named in honor of the big horse Joe. He is so small because his mom had so many babies back to back and his big brother, Starfeather, was nursing while his mother was pregnant with him. When we rescued him he was lethargic, his gums were pale, he had no energy, and was very thin. Now you will see him running around playing with his brothers.

Prince

Prince was the father of many miniature horses besides Little Joe, Starfeather, Jazzy, and Ryder. Now he and Mamma Mia are retired and happily graze on the ranch. Prince is very easy going and will smile for a treat. You will often see him trotting around the property with Mamma Mia close by.

Mamma Mia

Before coming to Triple Creek Ranch, Mamma Mia was having a baby every year, she was pregnant with one while nursing the other. She is the mother of Little Joe, Starfeather, and maybe Jazzy and Ryder.

Jazzy - 2013

Jazzy came to the ranch with her mother, father, and brothers. She has a spunky attitude with a mane to match. You will often see her hanging out with the big horses, she thinks she is a lot bigger than she really is!

Sampson - 2004

Sampson was the first mini horse at the ranch. He was trained by one of the Reese's grandchildren who was only five at the time.

Ellia - 2005

Brumby - 2005

Shandelle - 2005

The Reeses traded their hot tub for Ellia, Brumby, and Shandelle when they were neglected babies. Brumby and Ellia are half-siblings. When they found Ellia, she was knee-deep in mud.

All of our horses run freely on 40 acres. They are only penned up to eat. The minis are kept inside overnight to protect them from the occasional predator.

The Triple Creek Horses

Dakota

We inherited Dakota from our wonderful volunteer, Lorraine Johnson. Dakota is adjusting to being in the herd and loving the freedom of living on 40 acres.

DJ - 1992

DJ is our Icelandic horse who was donated by Jean Ragland. Jean took her last ride on him when she was 80 years old. DJ is sometimes called a couch because he is so comfortable to lay on. He has a sickness that makes him slow, calm, and it takes a lot longer to shed his winter coat. He also needs special feed.

Starfeather

Starfeather came with the other four minis when he was two years old. He was so feisty that we named him Chuck Noris, but he calmed down so we changed his name. His name is Starfeather because he has a star on his forehead and a feather in his man
